Appendix to 'Adjectival polarity and the processing of scalar inferences'

Table 1: Materials used in the experiment.

Sentence	True	False	Target
The door is ajar.
It is breezy outside.
He is chubby.
She looks content.
The water is cool.
It is drizzly outside.
His accuracy is fair.
The water in the bath is low.

Continued on next page

Continued from previous page

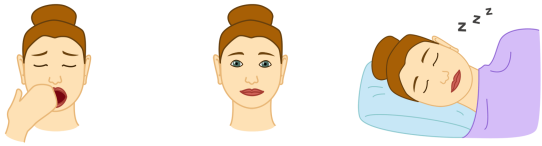
Her grade is mediocre.

Her grade is passable.

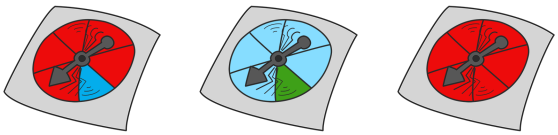
The banana is ripe.

Red flowers are scarce.

She is sleepy.



The arrow is unlikely to land on blue.



The water is warm.

Her face is youthful.